Our special news for March & April!

New Upcoming Events!

Rabbi, David Cohen-Henriquez

When Moses led the Israelites from the Red Sea into the Desert.

For three days they traveled without finding anything to drink. At the first stop where they finally found waters they realized they could not drink them because they were bitter. So the people got angry and grumbled and kvetched against Moses, saying, "What are we going to drink?"

Moses questions God what to do and God shows Moses a piece of wood. He threw the piece of wood into the water, and the water became fit to drink.

Our tradition relates the Torah to a Tree. Torah scrolls are rolled around two holders made out of wood, receiving then the name of "Etz Chayim", the Tree of Life.

Torah is also many times equated to water. Just as our bodies cannot survive more than three days without water, so too our souls thirst after three days without Torah.

Engaging with the Tree of Life sweetens our bitter surroundings.

We can all feel the toxicity in our societal relationships these days. We are living in very bitter times, where the heated political debates explode around every issue in our surroundings, both in the real world and in social media.

We have to keep in mind this episode occurs before the people of Israel have received the Torah. At this moment God gave them then a branch of the tree of Life, something to keep their minds busy, to be engaged in the study and understanding of the Torah before even receiving formally the Torah itself. It was to be a sneak peak of the upcoming Revelation at Sinai where the complete Teaching would be given. The Israelites also received the commandment of observing Shabbat as a sacred day before arriving at Mount Sinai. This led our commentators to explain the recently freed people were now going engaged in the study of Shabbat and its rules and practices. This study of Torah and the observance of a Day of Rest was going to be something to keep to help them heal their constant bickering and contentious usage of words and time.

Being engaged in the study of Torah and to feel the blessing of Shabbat purifies the bitter waters that surround us. We are invited to get away from the screens and unplug the cacophonous noise. A day we can disconnect and reconnect to the good old world, in its pristine state of being.

It is said that more than the Jews kept the Shabbat, the Shabbat kept the Jews.

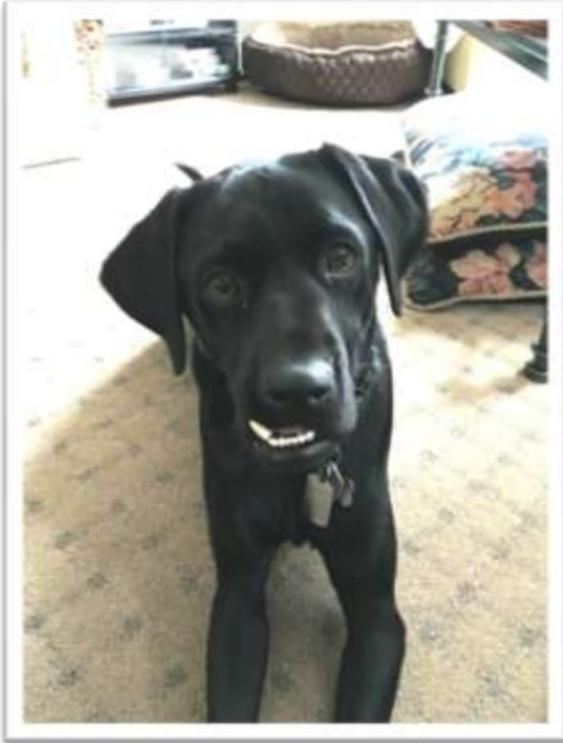

It is important to engage in civil conversation and be politically active, but there is a harm we do to ourselves if we don't get off the thread-mill once in a while.

If we listen carefully and do what is right, if we pay attention to the mitzvot and engage in sacred learning and observe the holiness of a day of rest, we will not suffer of the same maladies that afflicted the Egyptians.

We hope you can come to synagogue on Shabbat and drink from the sweet waters of Torah with us and we can continue healing and strengthening our souls for the weekly battles and challenges.

SHUL ETIQUETTE

As is the case with many of our members, I receive more than a handful of Jewish-oriented emails daily, featuring Israel, Conservative Judaism, entertainment, spiritualism, and humor! I was particularly amused by an article that appeared in an email from AISH.com, entitled "Shul Etiquette for Beginners," featuring tips on "how to fit in" at Shul. So for those of you who are apprehensive about coming to services, fear no more! Here are some very funny hints from the article, which will hopefully result in less kvetching from me about the number of people who don't come to Saturday morning services.

SING WHAT YOU KNOW – if you can't harmonize, don't worry, no one expects that you should be the next Jan Pearce (or David Aronson).

CLOSE YOUR EYES – Very spiritual!

SAY "YASHER KOYACH" TO EVERYBODY – or if you are a bit insecure about the pronunciation, shake hands with everyone.

TAKE THREE STEPS FORWARD AND THREE STEPS BACK BEFORE AND AFTER THE SILENT PRAYER – don't dance!

THERE IS NEVER A WRONG TIME TO BOW – Bow as much as you can KISS THE TORAH – with a Siddur or Tallis. Don't worry about germs.

BRING NAMES TO THE BIMAH FOR A "MISH BEYRACH" – the more names, the more important you must be.

BE READY TO OPEN THE ARK – volunteer for the easiest of honors, and you can practice by closing curtains at home.

On a more serious note, for those of you reluctant to come to services, take a chance and you may be very pleasantly surprised. And the food complements and supplements the Shul experience. I hope to see you soon.

Weekly Contemplative Prayer

Tuesdays 7:00pm

“Whenever a man is able to offer his prayers in the synagogue he should do so since there proper concentration of the heart can be achieved. The Rabbis laid down a great rule: Communal prayer has a special value and whenever ten pray in the synagogue the Shekhinah [the divine indwelling] is present.” [Menahem Meiri a 13th century Talmudist from Provence]

We welcome you to participate in the warmth and comfort of our Ritual Prayer Service as you recall the meaning of the life of your loved one at their time of yahrzeit. We encourage you to contact your family and friends in helping to fulfill this Mitzvah.

If you would like to have a Minyan to say Kaddish and need help in obtaining the necessary number needed please contact the office 1 week before the observance date. We will be happy to assist you by sending out a notice for the requested yahrzeit.

Temple Sinai Memorial Park

Historically, establishing a cemetery is one of the first priorities when a Jewish community is established and settled. Another priority, of course, is the starting of a school. Temple Sinai proudly maintains a Jewish cemetery for its members. Our cemetery is on Route 114 in Danvers, MA. John Ross and Sons, Inc. is the company we have engaged to maintain our grounds and provide the services necessary for burials and installation of monuments. Our cemetery is bounded on two sides by trees and a low stone wall on one of those sides. There are many other cemeteries in the same location. We work continually to keep the grounds in good order. Owning cemetery property can give a family peace of mind knowing that there is one less detail to focus on at the time of the death of a loved one.

If you have questions about our cemetery or would like to discuss purchasing, contact Ellen Lodgen at 781-639-2003 or pelzo125@gmail.com.

Memorial Rick Rosenblatt

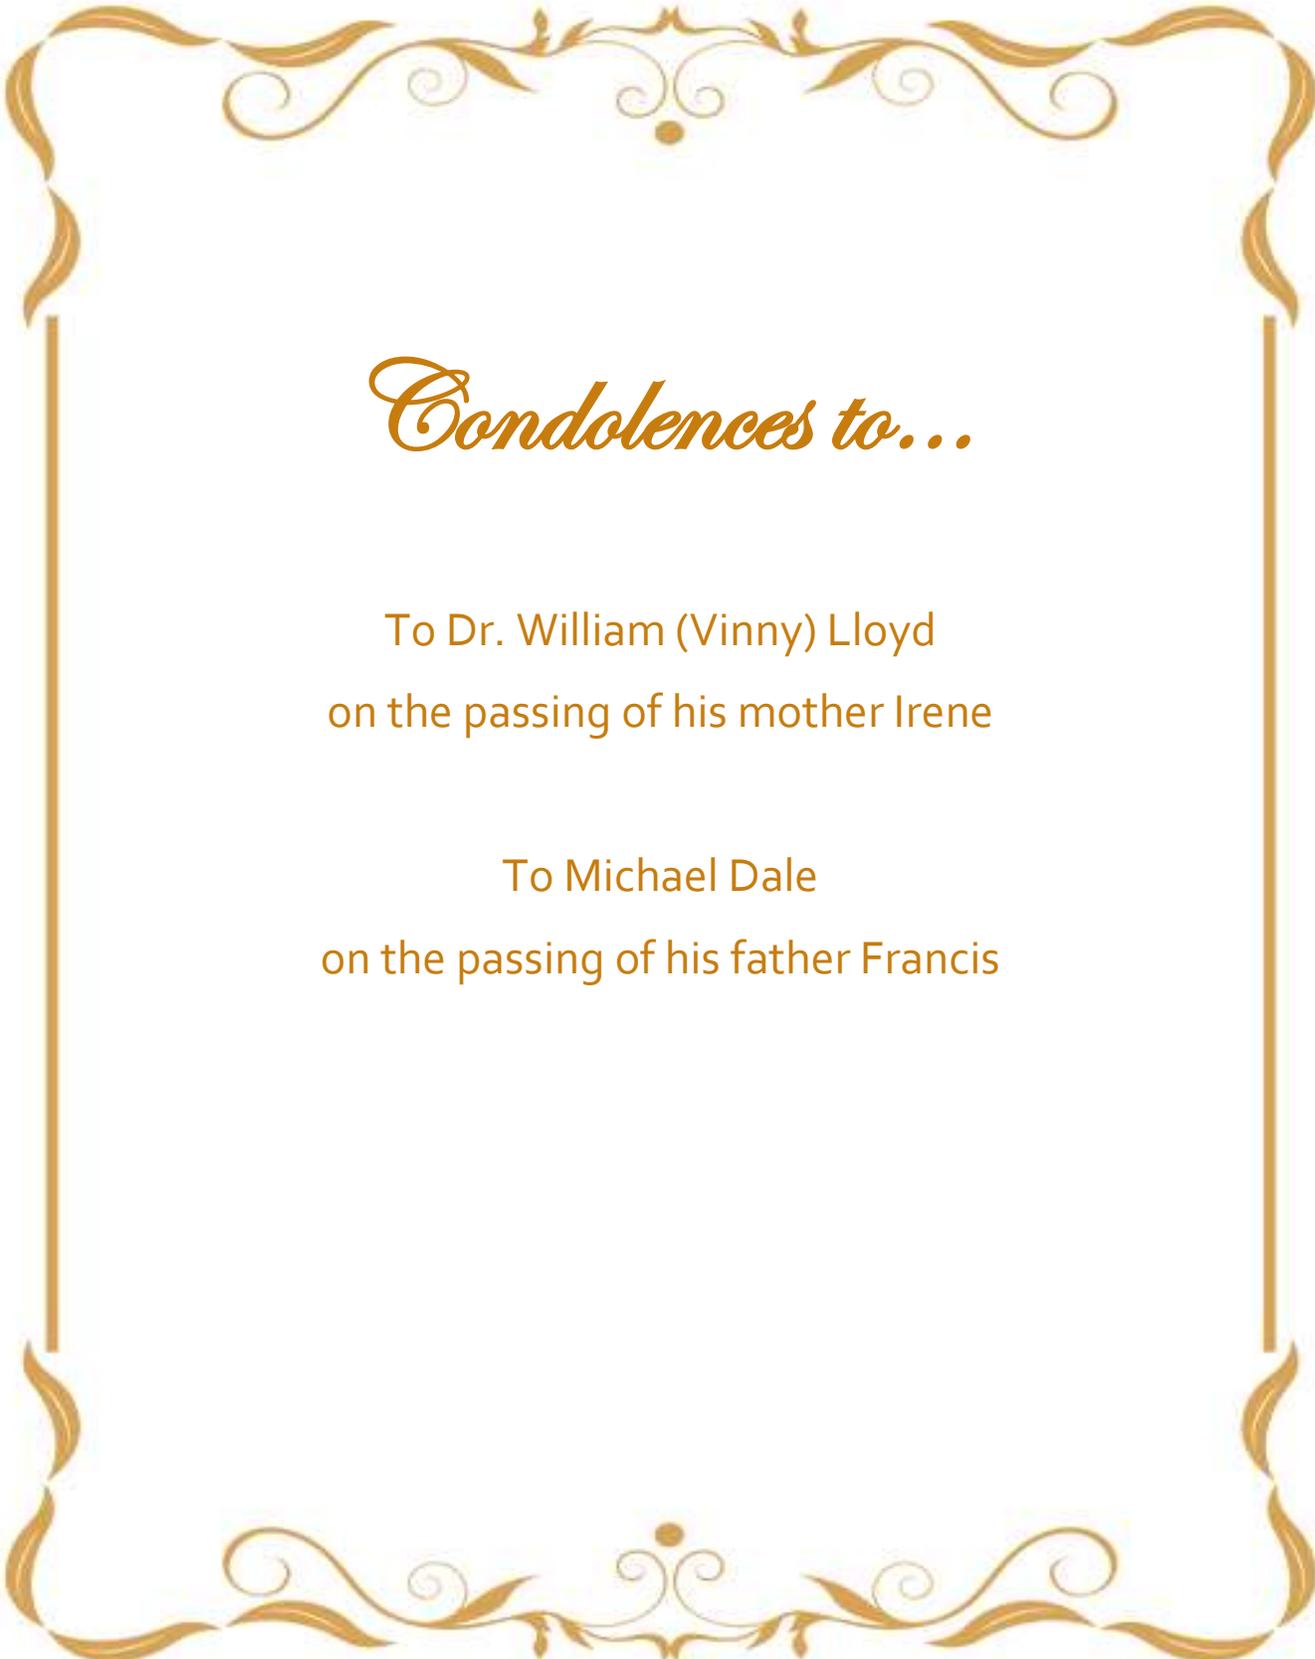

Memorial Plaques are a wonderful way to remember beloved relatives, friends, or anyone who has touched your life. Preserve the memory of a loved one, so that they will always be a part of our temple life. Multi-line Nameplates are inscribed with the name of the departed in English and Hebrew along with the English date of death and the Hebrew Yahrzeit month and day. Single name plaques, are inscribed with the name of the departed in English only, and are placed on the Chapel wall, rotated weekly.

If you are interested in ordering a Yahrzeit Memorial Plaque for both the Chapel and Main Sanctuary the cost is $350.

Please contact Rick Rosenblatt at: 978-744-5736 or rick.rosenblatt@hotmail.com for more information.

Temple Sinai Wall of Tribute

Dedicated in December 1996, the Tribute Wall theme is to designate in the Temple a special place where members, extended family, friends and well wishers may choose to honor others, be they a spouse, child, grandchild, grandparent, special friend or whomever as well as singular life cycle event which should not pass without special celebration.

Located in Founder's Hall, the Wall of Tribute stems from the generosity and thoughtfulness of Temple members Mildred and Irwin Zeramby who wished to commemorate their 50th Wedding Anniversary and sought to include and benefit our Temple at this special time in their lives.

The design of the Wall is the creation of Temple Sinai member Leslie Fahn Rosenberg. Its central theme is a Menorah surrounded by donor plates of various sizes and affords many choices and opportunities for giving.

Prices range from $180 - $3,000.

We welcome your interest and look forward to your participation in our Special Tribute Wall.

Did you know that most of the email communication we do from the office goes through a program called Constant Contact?

Did you know that we send out a weekly communique via Constant Contact? Did you know that it comes out anytime between Wednesday and Friday?

If you haven't been receiving these important emails there could be something amiss. The most common issue is accidentally clicking on the "unsubscribe" link. Once that happens you will no longer get any emails from Temple Sinai.

Please contact the office so we can get you back on track to receive all the essential information about what is happening here at Temple Sinai.

Scrip is fundraising while you shop!

shopwithscrip™  .com

SCRIP is an ongoing fundraiser at Temple Sinai. Essentially, SCRIP means substitute money. When you purchase scrip, you're buying a gift-card that can be used just like cash, and when you do, a percentage of that purchase comes back to the Temple. Simple as that! Retailers like Stop & Shop, CVS, Dunkin Donuts are all available (and many more) so consider this option when planning your shopping.
